To Whom it may concern:

John La Jacona is a registered and an active member of our parish.

His deep faith and his magnificent musical talent have added a great deal to our effort here.

If I may be of any further service in this matter, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Yours in Jesus' peace,

Rev Arthur W. [Signature]

To Whom It May Concern:

We had John Laiacona come and do a concert for our Youth Lock-In (grades 7-12). He did an excellent job of involving the kids in the concert and making them feel a part of the concert.

The variety of vocal, saxophone, clarinet, guitar, and flute is a nice touch, and he does all five well. God has also given him a talent for song-writing, and the messages are powerful.

Sincerely,

Brad Pilkington,
Minister of Music,
Whitehall Baptist Church

Dear John:

Thanks again for being a special part of our 1992 Fall Lock-In here at Whitehall Baptist Church. The kids really enjoyed you and I think you handled a difficult situation well.

Enclosed is a small token of our appreciation. I wish it could be more!

God bless you.

Living For Jesus,

Brad Pilkington

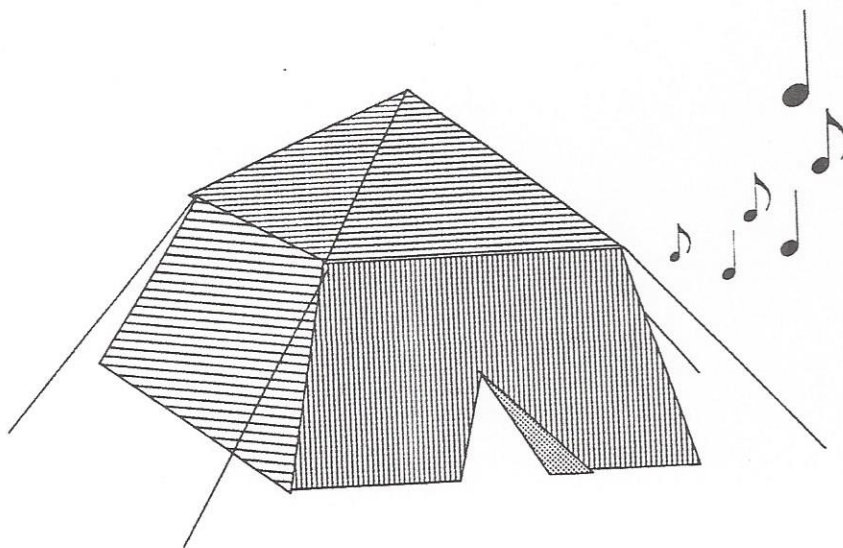

P.S. Sorry, your picture inadvertently got thrown away by our Bulletin Board person!

The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof

Psalm 24:1

Call to worship

Leader: Before the mountains were born or you brought forth the earth and the world, from everlasting to everlasting you are God.

People: Satisfy us in the morning with your unfailing love, that we may sing for joy and be glad all our days.

—Psalm 90:2, 14 (NIV)

Think before you thank

Tomorrow is Thanksgiving Day in Canada. While we celebrate earth's good gifts, let us also be aware of how we contribute to the ecological crisis. The theme of Genesis 3:8 is repeated in Hebrews 4:13 (NIV): "Nothing in all creation is hidden from God's sight. Everything is uncovered and laid bare before the eyes of him to whom we must give account." So let us think before we thank.

Prayer of confession

Leader: Today, while most of us live in sturdy houses, and some of us in fine houses, and others are looking for affordable housing, many people around the world are homeless. And so we confess . . .

People: "Lord, you have been our dwelling place throughout all generations." Teach us to put our trust in you and our rest in you.

Leader: Today, through the advances of medical science, many of us will live longer. We have not really learned to save lives; we have only learned to postpone death. Life itself is a gift from God. And so we confess . . .

People: "A thousand years in your sight are like a day that has just gone by, or like a watch in the night."

Leader: In all our striving, we can change so little in our lives. With all our knowledge, much remains a mystery to us. So we confess, O infinite God, that we are finite . . .

People: "Teach us to number our days aright, that we may gain a heart of wisdom."

—based on Psalm 90:1, 4, 12

—Maurice Martin
New Hamburg, Ontario

About the cover: The earth is a gift of God to the human race. From the earth comes the food that sustains human life. From it also comes the minerals used to create all of the products developed and used by all peoples. As stewards of this gracious gift of God, let us treat the earth with respect. Let us leave it in better condition than when we received it, so that future generations will also be amply sustained by it.

Bible readings for today: Genesis 3:8-19; Psalm 90:1-12; Hebrews 4:1-3, 9-13; and Mark 10:17-30.

Dear John:

On behalf of the auction committee, I want to thank you for the special part you played in the International Easter Auction. We have had requests for your albums from some of the guests. On the letter that each guest will receive we will be enclosing information on how to contact you through Pinnacle Enterprises.

Thank you again for entertaining at this year's auction. All the auction results are not in, but it appears that we will net $16,000 on our third year auction.

Sincerely,

Dear John,

Thanks for providing the program last Tuesday night at the St. Pete's Single Again Group. We really appreciate you taking the time to perform for us and for your uplifting comments.

As I mentioned in the introduction, the idea of having a spiritual singing program is really very new to us. Obviously, it was very well received and we thank you again for coming. Perhaps we can do it again in six months or so. I'll be in touch.

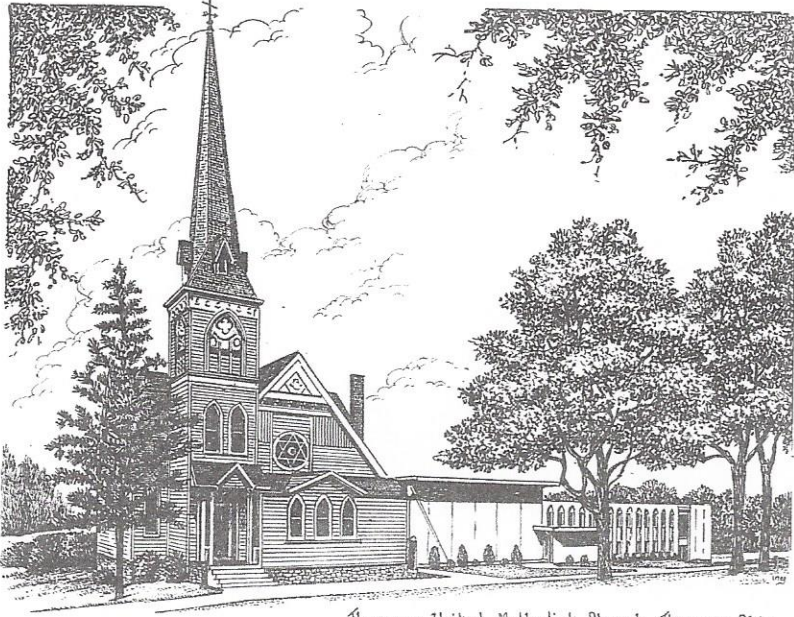

I received your phone message. As the opportunity comes up, I'll be glad to pass along the word about your availability.

Sincerely,

Arnold J Frigeri

Dear Sir

To whom it may concern. I am writing this letter to inform you of the wonderful super talent of a young man I met a few years ago.

Mr John LaLacosa rendered heart warming selections at one of my Annual "Mother day programs title "Musical Festival of Praise". Singing and accompanying himself with the Saxophone, The Audience loved his selections and so did I, he was just wonderful.

John also writes and composes his own songs. God has truly blessed this young man with lots of talent and abilities.

He has appeared twice for this occasion and will appear this year also.

I would recommend John to anyone who appreciates good anointed music.

This years "Musical Festival of Praise" will be held at "The Hosack Street Baptist Church," 1160 Watkins Rd. John will be one of my special Guests. I know that the dedication and talent John has will certainly be recognized in years to come.

Sincerely
Sis Martha Abbott

John LaIacona to appear at Believer's Crusade

Dove Ministries, host for the Believer's Crusade, is pleased to announce that Christian recording artist John LaIacona will be added to the proceedings for both the Friday and Saturday night services. John began singing for family and friends at the age of three. He took clarinet and saxophone lessons at the ages of seven and thirteen, respectively. Born in Newtonville, New York, his musical studies led him to be a soloist with his high school jazz band at the New York World's Fair.

He performed in various jazz, blues and rock bands throughout his high school and college days until he graduated from Alfred University in New York in 1970.

John says "my life was changed for the better the day I received Christ into my life in 1971." Soon after, John became part of a Christian band called "Emmanuel." With Emmanuel he performed for many fellowship and church groups including a performance for five thousand people at the National Catholic Charismatic Conference in Atlantic City.

In 1979, John's first album, "The Shepherd Calls His Sheep" was released, a collection of songs written by John himself. His second album, "Come Now, My Love," was released in 1986, along with a songbook of selections from this recording, again all written by John. Over the years, John has performed on radio, television, in churches, fellowships, park concerts, prisons, homes for the retarded, hospitals, nursing homes, halfway houses, for sinners, saints, the 'together' and the broken hearted.

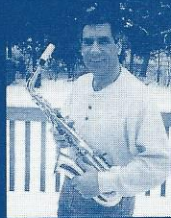

JOHN LAIACONA

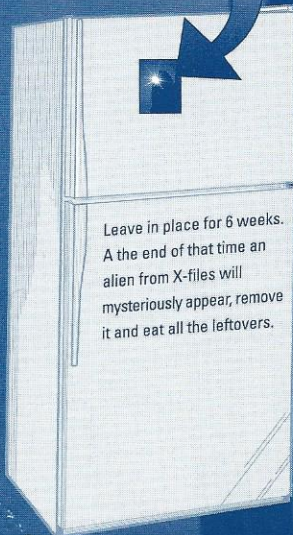

Come early if you want to see and hear John sing and play saxophone and clarinet, because he will open the main service at 7 p.m. Remember, there are workshops taught by ministers that start at 6 p.m. as well as the Teen Challenge that also starts at 6 p.m. A children's church program and nursery are available both nights.
